

Sponsor & Exhibitor PROSPECTUS

How can a Sponsorship or Exhibit at the International Air Safety Summit Help Your Organization?

Organized by

Hosted by

DEAR AVIATION COLLEAGUE,

Flight Safety Foundation's summits give you, as a sponsor and or exhibitor, the ideal venue to connect with hundreds of aviation safety professionals, including some of the world's most influential leaders from all across the industry. These events are a one-stop source where key decision-makers can exchange information on how the latest developments will impact their businesses.

The 69th annual International Air Safety Summit (IASS) is scheduled for November 14-16, 2016 in Dubai, United Arab Emirates and is hosted by Emirates. Held annually since 1947, the IASS brings together the international aviation community to discuss key safety issues, trends, and best practices. At every IASS, we engage with attendees from a wide variety of global market segments. Safety professionals tell us they view IASS as an ideal time to hear about industry best practices and network with their colleagues.

We realize that you have many options on how you allocate your marketing budget. The Flight Safety Foundation and its members appreciate your participation and support as a sponsor and or exhibitor, and welcome any input on how we can make the experience even better and maximize your return on investment.

Kind regards,

Jon Beatty President & CEO

EXHIBIT MARKETPLACE OPPORTUNITIES

Why Exhibit At IASS?

IASS provides exhibitors with access to a global gathering of some of the most influential decision makers in aviation safety all under one roof. Unlike some massive trade shows, the 'boutique' atmosphere of IASS allows exhibitors and attendees to interact in a more personal, one-on-one manner. Backed by almost 70 years of history and the Foundation's independence and impartiality, make IASS the one aviation safety event you don't want to miss.

Exposure

95% of IASS participants visit the exhibit marketplace and 80% find exhibitors relevant to their day-to-day operations. Market your product/service or conduct a demonstration to IASS attendees and to the Foundation's 1,000 members through the eDaily IASS newsletter.

Networking

Build new relationships and enhance existing ones with current and prospective customers.

Professional Development

Gain complimentary access to all programming sessions and connect the content back to your organization's product/service .
