

Captain Dirk DeWinter, Eurocontrol

Dirk graduated in 1986 at the Vrije Universiteit Brussel (VUB) obtaining an academical master degree in electronic engineering.

After his military service he started his pilot training at the Burger Luchtvaart School (BLS) in Belgium and afterwards joined the Belgian flag carrier SABENA. During this 12 year period he flew B737 classic and EFIS, A310/330/340 and obtained his command on B737 and A32F.

In 2002 Dirk joined EasyJet and is currently on a part-time assignment as a training captain with EasyJet based in Paris Charles-de-Gaulle.

Since 2008 Dirk works for EUROCONTROL as a contractor to the Airport Unit. He provides operational expertise in various domains such as airport capacity, continuous descent operations; runway safety and wake vortex re-categorisation.
