

Ng Junsheng, Senior Air Safety Investigator, Transport Safety Investigation Bureau, Ministry of Transport, Singapore

Mr Ng Junsheng is a Senior Air Safety Investigator and the Head of the Technical Support Section within the Transport Safety Investigation Bureau (TSIB) of Singapore.

His duties in TSIB include managing the Flight Recorder Read-out Facility in TSIB and planning for future equipment and technical support for TSIB investigations.

Junsheng also holds a B2 Aircraft Maintenance License. As a Licensed Aircraft Maintenance Engineer, he carried out and certified aircraft heavy maintenance and passenger-to-freighter conversion work on various wide-body types. Prior to joining the TSIB, he was a quality engineer of a maintenance repair and overhaul organisation. He helped the organisation to establish the quality system to fulfill the regulatory requirements and dealt with compliance matters.

Junsheng has a Bachelor of Electrical and Electronic Engineering degree from Nanyang Technological University, Singapore, and is currently pursuing a Private Pilot License in Singapore.