

Lim Lam Seng

Deputy Director (Aerodrome & Air Navigation Services regulation)
Civil Aviation Authority of Singapore

Lam Seng joined the Civil Aviation Authority of Singapore (CAAS) as an Air Traffic Control Officer (ATCO) in 1992. He is trained in aerodrome control (Changi) and approach control service. Having acquired the knowledge and experience in the provision of air traffic services, Lam Seng was posted to the Singapore Aviation Academy (SAA) as an ATS Instructor from 2005 to 2006, and was responsible for planning and conducting aerodrome control and approach control courses for ATCOs.

He was subsequently posted to Changi Tower as a project officer, assisting the Chief Changi Tower in the management of air traffic operations. He assumed the role of Chief Changi Tower in 2011. He joined the Aerodrome and Air Navigation Services Regulation (AAR) Division of CAAS in 2014 and is responsible for the safety oversight of the air navigation services in the Singapore Flight Information Region.