

Polaris Aero

Exhibitor: Booth Numbers 5 & 6

Polaris Aero seeks to transform the aviation industry. As former pilots, it's not enough for us to make flight planning easier – we want to make flying safer. We do this with award-winning safety software that's designed to save time, hassle, and most importantly, human lives.

FlightRisk is our solution to conventional flight planning. We replace “information overload” with a risk assessment system that identifies the hazards in real time that are most relevant to your flight. FlightRisk turns raw, often confusing data into clear insights – so you can make smarter decisions.

Vector SMS helps business and commercial aviation companies do more than just check the compliance box. It helps you achieve the highest level of safety. Vector SMS is a comprehensive system that simplifies your safety management process and boosts the overall effectiveness of your operations.
