

FLIGHT SAFETY FOUNDATION GLORIA HEATH SCHOLARSHIP

ARE YOU A FEMALE STUDENT SEEKING A CAREER IN AVIATION?

The Flight Safety Foundation Gloria Heath scholarship program is named after a woman who played a critical leadership role in the early days of the Foundation. She was an aviator who served in the U.S. Women Airforce Service Pilots during World War II. She was named one of the 100 most influential women in aviation by Women in Aviation International and was a recipient of numerous awards, including the Amelia Earhart Award and the Laura Taber Barbour Air Safety Award.

ELIGIBILITY

- Female students in all facets of aviation, including, but not limited to: pilots, engineers, air navigation, aerial controllers, and technicians.
- Female students enrolled in or accepted to an accredited institution, with an aviation or aerospace program.

WHAT YOU NEED

- A 1-2 page autobiographical summary of your history, what drew you to a career in aviation, and what your future career goals are.
- Two letters of reference from a faculty member, advisor, or training staff at your current academic institution.
- A copy of your academic transcript signed by your registrar showing your aviation curriculum.
- Submit a 30 second video on how you plan to use the scholarship, which the Foundation will use in future promotions regarding the Gloria Heath Scholarship program.

Flight Safety Foundation is an independent, impartial, international non-profit organization engaged in research, education, advocacy, and communications to improve aviation safety. The Foundation's mission is to connect, influence, and lead global aviation safety.
